Creative Director – Branded Content, Commercials, Design; ex-Google;
Nashville Metropolitan Area

Summary

Award-winning creative leader, Director and filmmaker with experience in startups, advertising, technology, retail, digital, and product marketing.

I am a heartfelt creative, bringing together brand strategy and story through a cinematic lens. This perspective draws on my background as a Creative Director and Designer for brands like Google, Samsung, Lonely Planet, and JPMorgan Chase, all of which have helped inform my perception of humanity and life's complex relationships. My experience and love for film has culminated in narratives that inspire viewers with a central truth and empathy toward one another. As a Director and Cinematographer, I am known for my ability to visually immerse audiences and also craft stories with strong emotional undertones. My passion is to work on meaningful commercial and branded projects.
